J. R. Lane, Esq.,

President, Canadian Club,

Toronto.

Dear Mr. Lane:

Dr. Graham Taylor of Chicago, one of the most prominent workers in the social life of the City of Chicago, is to be at the University on November 1st and taking our address at the Sunday morning service. He is a very effective speaker and has a large influence in the American cities. It has occurred to me that you might be interested in having him at the Canadian Club on the 10th of November. We hope that his visit will stimulate the interest in the social work of the city and will be of particular aid in carrying on our settlement on Adelaide Street.

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.

Dr. R. A. Falconer,
President, University of Toronto,
Toronto.

Dear Dr. Falconer,

I am enclosing a copy of an invitation which I have been authorised by the Literary and Scientific Society to forward to Col. Roosevelt. If you would care to do so, I am sure it would have much weight with him if you were also to write him, and would greatly increase the chances of securing from him an acceptance.

Yours sincerely,

Col. Theodore Roosevelt,
Oyster Bay, L. I.,
New York.

Dear Sir,

On behalf of the members of the Literary and Scientific Society of the University of Toronto, I have great pleasure in extending to you a warm invitation to attend as guest of honor the annual open meeting of the Society, to be held on some date next autumn or winter.

As you doubtless know, the University of Toronto is the great institution of learning in Canada, and one of the largest universities in the world, and the open meeting of the Literary Society is the foremost public function held under the auspices of under graduates during the college year. Naturally, it is anticipated with keen interest by all the students and those interested in University matters generally. It is now a time honored institution which has in the past been attended by many distinguished personages. Last year, the Society was honored by an address on "Popular Government" by Mr. Taft.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt,

I do not need to say that the Society and, I believe, everyone connected with the University would regard it as a signal honor to have you visit us during the next University term. Nor do I need to say that a visit by you to Canada would create throughout the length and breadth of the country, an extraordinary interest and I can assure you that your welcome would be of the warmest possible description. While recognising the multitudinous calls upon your time and attention, the Society hopes that the somewhat unique character of the gathering and the opportunity it will afford to convey a message to several thousand active, young Canadian minds drawn from all parts of the Dominion will be sufficient to influence you to accept the invitation.

As to the date, the open meeting is usually held as soon as convenient after the reassembling of the students in October, preferably in the last half of the month or early in November. However, the specific date could be fixed to suit your convenience, perhaps even in some other month than October or November, as long as it does not coincide with holidays when the students are away from the city. May I hope that you will give the invitation sympathetic consideration, and that you will find it possible to accept.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt,

Yours sincerely,

JRB-H.
